

Grinnell Public Library District

Exhibits and Display Policy

The Library District provides a venue for rotating exhibits in designated open public spaces at the Grinnell Public Library in accordance with the library's mission statement.

Local artists or groups who wish to display must submit samples for review. Works of art or displays chosen for these temporary exhibits are lent to the Library District by the individual artist or group for a period of time specified by written agreement. The Library District neither purchases these works or displays of art nor profits from exhibiting them. The installation and deinstallation of the exhibit is the responsibility of the artist or group, with the supervision of a staff member. While the Library District will provide reasonable security for such exhibits, security cannot be guaranteed and insurance cannot be provided to the artist or group by the Library District.

A committee of staff will recommend an exhibit to the Library Director who, in turn, will have the final determination on whether the Library District will host the exhibit.
